FOR THE ASSOCIATE COMMISSIONER,

EXAMINATIONS

Mary C. Mulrean, Acting Director Administrative Appeals Office

DISCUSSION: The nonimmigrant visa petition was denied by the director and is now before the Associate Commissioner for Examinations on appeal. The appeal will be dismissed.

The petitioner is a computer consultancy business with five to eight employees and $240,000 gross annual income. It seeks to employ the beneficiary as a computer programmer/analyst for a period of three years. The director determined that, pursuant to a Service investigation, there was no company or organization established as claimed by the petitioner at the address shown on the petition.

On appeal, the petitioner's chief executive officer submits a report from the Better Business Bureau dated September 10, 1999, indicating that they had received no customer complaints concerning the petitioner.

Section 101(a) (15) (H) (i) (b) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (the Act), 8 U.S.C. 1101(a) (15) (H) (i) (b), provides in part for nonimmigrant classification to qualified aliens who are coming temporarily to the United States to perform services in a specialty occupation. Section 214(i) (1) of the Act, 8 U.S.C. 1184(i) (1), defines a "specialty occupation" as an occupation that requires theoretical and practical application of a body of highly specialized knowledge, and attainment of a bachelor's or higher degree in the specific specialty (or its equivalent) as a minimum for entry into the occupation in the United States.

Pursuant to 8 C.F.R. 214.2(h)(4)(iii)(B), the petitioner shall submit the following with an H-1B petition involving a specialty occupation:

- 1. A certification from the Secretary of Labor that the petitioner has filed a labor condition application with the Secretary,
- 2. A statement that it will comply with the terms of the labor condition application for the duration of the alien's authorized period of stay, and
- 3. Evidence that the alien qualifies to perform services in the specialty occupation.

The petitioner has provided a certified labor condition application and a statement that it will comply with the terms of the labor condition application. This application shows that the beneficiary would be employed for a threat ear period at investigation revealed, however, that the petitioner was not conducting any on-site business nor did it have any consulting contracts. It is noted that the petitioner has filed 92 petitions; interviews with approved beneficiaries revealed that the petitioner was not employing them or paying their wages in accordance with the conditions listed on their petitions.

In view of the foregoing, the petitioner has not persuasively established that a position for the beneficiary in a specialty occupation actually exists. Therefore the petition may not be approved.

The burden of proof in these proceedings rests solely with the petitioner. Section 291 of the Act, 8 U.S.C. 1361. The petitioner has not sustained that burden. Accordingly, the decision of the director will not be disturbed.

ORDER: The appeal is dismissed.
